Reusable Pad Project

Help us sew pads for girls in Cameroon so that they can attend school

The Great Zharity Sewing Challenge

We're excited to share with you our brand new project this Spring: to help make reusable menstrual pads for those in need. 500 of these pads, to be exact!

Zharity is collaborating with an agency that already sends these pads to women and girls in Cameroon and our goal is to provide them with 500 finished pads by the Fall. We will be hosting our first 3 sessions this Spring and volunteers can drop in for a couple of hours to help prepare materials. No sewing experience necessary! Zharity volunteers will be on hand to help cut the fabric and bag up materials in preparation for the sewing phase.

A fun and easy way to meet others and give back! Follow the link below to save your spot now!
